Quantum Future Group, Inc. previously operated its rented retreat/conference center directly under the supervision of US agents. However due to the implementation of FATCA, French banks ejected US customers including corporate and non-profit accounts. Our US Fiscal Agent account was summarily closed by the French bank and it was impossible to open another in ANY bank using the US fiscal agency of a US non-profit organization. Thus, it became necessary to create a French non-profit with all EU board members. An agreement was made that QFG would provide support for as long as needed, but that EU members of QFG who had formerly donated/volunteered to the US organization, would now focus on the French organization in terms of funding and volunteering. Since US members are still resident in France and able to oversee the activities, there is direct supervision and monitoring of funds which are being utilized in exactly the same ways as for previous years.

Part VI, Section A, line 2: Arkadiusz Jadczyk is the husband of Laura Knight-Jadczyk. Joseph Quinn is their son-in-law.

Part VI, Section B, line 11b: It has taken about 300 wo-man hours to database income and expenses and to complete and double-check the tax forms prior to filing. The process is completed by 5 of the board members plus executive committee members.

Part VI, Section B, line 12a, b, c: We have established not only a disclosure policy, but also strict fiscal rules which all directors, officers, committee members, volunteers, are required to read and sign. Our fiscal rules include a written conflict of interest policy, setting forth procedures for handling all matters that come before the board of directors in which the persons above have, or may have, an interest. In such cases, those matters are discussed in their absence and when voted on, they abstain. The same is true in respect of other members of the board. We regularly monitor expenditures, bank records, phone records, etc. The board of directors are charged with keeping a global view of each individual involved and, if necessary, will utilize net searches, etc., to determine if there is non-compliance. We also note if there are conflicts of interest other than financial. The board will review any such situations that might occur.

Part VI, Section B, line 13: All directors, officers, volunteers, must sign an NDA. Non-compliance has zero tolerance.

Part VI, Section B, line 14: We save everything until the paper rots.

Part VI, Section C, 18 and 19: QFG's tax returns are available on the Guidestar website in addition to our own site.

Part XI, Line 9: The 1% interest on QFG's loan to the Jadczyks resulted in a $1242 increase in loan assets (see Schedule L, Part II). Also, as a result of new members and positive results of our diet and health research, we now value our brain power significantly higher and thus have added 500k to our intangible assets. Since our researchers are, effectively, "idea machines", as per our fiscal policy, and without which we could not fulfill our mission to our supporters and the general public, we consider brains to be our greatest asset. Additional change in this figure is the sale of old stock on hand (approx. $250 worth of books and $160 worth of DVDs, at cost) and the acquisition of new stock (approx. $3200 worth of books and $3900 worth of DVDs).

Part VII Supplemental Information

Provide additional information for responses to questions on Schedule R (see instructions).

FOTCM is a religious organization, an offshoot of the research of QFG. QFG acts as Fiscal Agent for FOTCM.

The two organizations also work hand in hand on many projects, share office space, equipment, volunteers, board members, etc.

It is simply more economical and time effective for the two organizations to do this in respect of the co-relation of many research activities.

FOTCM began by receiving management help from QFG. These needs are gradually declining as FOTCM grows on its own.

It should be noted that FOTCM and QFG managers are careful to keep the income strictly separated for tracking purposes: they each have their own bank accounts. Expenses that result from shared office space and equipment, etc., are accounted for on a percentage basis (time, space, allocation of resources, etc.).
